New York Sextet to Give Concert

The New York String Sextet will give a Concertime performance on May 8 at 4 o'clock in the Tombo-Barton Building. This performance is both an encore and a debut by popular demand of Tulcans who have been looking forward to a return visit from the famed Sextet since its first appearance in Tulc in Concertime, April 1963. For that performance, the Sextet drew the largest box office sales of any group in Concertime's history. The "debut" lies in Concertime's first venture onto the campus. The presentation of the New York String Sextet is being co-sponsored by ORU, which has joined with Concertime in the goal of bringing chamber music to young adults.

Gene Elant, head of the Music Department, is an enthusiastic supporter of chamber music. He has dedicated his efforts and those of his staff to making it possible for all students to hear outstanding professional musicians. The Concertime series offers an ideal cooperative venture, Professor Elant says, since the chamber music group is also directing its program toward young adults.

Computing the New York String Sextet are Renato Bonanini and Kees Kooper, violins; Paul Doktor and Emil Simionet, violas; James Scholz and George Kostens, cellists. New on their sixth transcontinental tour, their appearance is considered a highlight of the concert season in cities throughout North America.

Preceding the 4 o'clock performance, there will be a coffee hour, starting at 3:30 in the lobby of the Tombo-Barton Building. Tickets for the performances are free for ORU students.

Myra Meets Teen Challenge

One of the most interesting vacations of the Easter recess was that of Miss Myra Alexander, a member of the Oral Roberts University music staff. Myra spent several days in New York City, during which she attended Mrs. Norton's Carnegie Hall recital, a tremendous success, and visited the New York Teen Challenge Center. Having taught in Chicago in the summer of 1964, Myra was somewhat prepared for the slums of New York. However, she feels a girl by herself has no place in New York... unless she has the Holy Spirit with her. While at the center she talked with Dr. David Wilkerson and several of the Teen Challenge workers. The atmosphere there was one of constant activity and complete dedication. "Getting in to see Dave Wilkerson is as hard as getting to talk to Mr. Elant," Myra recalled. As a fitting conclusion, Myra wandered into a line waiting to watch the T.V. program, CONCENTRATION, and ended up taking a qualification test to be a contestant on the program. We're still awaiting the results.

IN MEMORIAM

A man so real that reality couldn't hold him; a man so alive that life itself imprisoned him. He walked, talked and lived with men, but he communed with God. He was above life—on a plane far higher than men attain.

He stood as a pillar of manhood that refused to submit to unhappiness and bereavement. He was a man who found the lovely worthy of exaltation, the supernatural tangible enough to express, the failures of faltering men small enough to ignore, and who lived life fully enough to dismiss loneliness and grief.

The integrity of his soul shone in his work; the honesty of his heart was revealed when he spoke, and the Light that he had found was visible in his life. Warren G. Stratton was a man so true that men held his openness in awe. "The joy he had in his heart could be seen on his face," President Roberts said. Dr. Mennick expressed his feelings in this way: "If it is possible for heaven to be made brighter, Warren Stratton will make it so."

Layman's Seminar Held

On April 26 the 300-400 guests of the recent layman's seminar will be taking with them a most outstanding enrichment that often comes in these times when our visitors trade their business and professional cares for a relaxed atmosphere of Christian warmth and fellowship.

In the seminars, President Roberts and others (who in this last seminar included Mrs. Druin and Spalding Rev. Harold Reedman and Rev. John Peters), strive to acquaint ministers, administrators, laymen and partners with the philosophy and existing reality of ORU.

In the latter part of June, a second series of youth seminars will be held, designed to promote Christian ethics, and the emphasis will be on a scriptural study of man and spiritual values. Instructions will be provided by faculty and special personnel.

Easter Vacation Seminar Success

ORBA patrons from all parts of the U.S. and Canada attended the Easter Vacation Seminar, one of the most successful since the university took the show on the road in September. During the services President Roberts and others ministered to many partners who had never fully understood the whole man concept. One student remarked that when many of the attending persons seemed to have completely changed. She said, "The people were friendly, and actually felt personally involved. They weren't sitting at home looking on, but were here, taking wholehearted interest."

The April 10th morning service featured a student panel made up of Dana Winstead, Vang Kennedy, Eric Plaus, Beverly Hubbard and Todd Staub. These students discussed the healing of the Centurion's servant, faith, and the point of contact. The response was tremendous.

The previous evening, the Russian choir, requiring 16 instruments, presented their repertoire in the chapel service to week before Stanley Tarkovsky gave the bennitodes in Russian as well. Again people attending openly expressed their gratitude.

Dennis Walther, one of the student guides, commented on the rejuvenating appeal of the attitude of the people. "I've seen so many groups of one accord. They seemed impressed with the students and facilities, as well as demonstrating their faith in the Lord. Actually their hearts were prepared to learn!"

The 50 students who stayed on campus seemed to enjoy the seminar very well. Many worked in the cafeteria or as guides. Others helped with baggage or the Sunday morning service. In one such discussion, a gentleman from Ontario, Canada spoke of his desire to increase his share in helping ORU to further Christianity. In tears he stated that he had not even wanted to come to the seminar, but since he did, he's felt different and has decided that he expressed his only desire was to soon attend another seminar like that.

Hopefully, the information and attitudes displayed in our seminars will be the initial impetus of each attending individual in the philosophy of ORU. Many have been won to Christianity and will receive the Baptism in the Holy Spirit during their stay at a seminar. From their reception with school programs and policies, and from our variety of events, some encouraging new students to apply, others helping to establish and further the campus learning facilities. This will be the best Broad Vision Outreach.

Speech Dept. Expands

The ORU speech department will take its first steps in the summer of 1966. With the addition of a strong and active drama department, new courses, and a talented new drama instructor, Dr. Storycope, the Department of Speech, anticipate a successful and extensive program.

"We want to have a drama program," Dr. Storycope reports. A course entitled "Introduction to the Theatre" will be included for next semester. In the area of applied drama, there will be two major plays (one each semester), a musical, and a variety of plays for public performance.

Raymond Lewandowski, a candidate for a Ph.D. from the University of Michigan, will be the new drama instructor. Under the supervision of Dr. Storycope, the director of the Drama Program, Dr. Lewandowski, these plays will be produced on a professional level.

Three majors will be offered and an interdepartmental major of music, speech, and drama, as well as a major in music with an interdepartmental major an additional six must be added.

Students majoring in telecommunications will have the latest facilities. An FM stereo station which will be the most powerful FM station in the Tulsa area and a TV studio with camera, RCA broadcast quadruples, video tape recorder, and RCA multiple film chairs are provided. An entire suite of offices and rooms have been set aside for set design, make-up, dressing room, a make-up room, and technical production equipment.

Party for Voice-Diction Class

At the recent class party for the Voice-Diction class, recently held a party for his 15-member voice course and class, Dr. Storycope held a party for his 15-member voice course and class. The party was held on Saturday, April 16, at his hotel.

Games were played until approximately midnight. Dr. Storycope grilled some barbecues and some guests went to his home for dinner. Many games were played until approximately midnight. Dr. Storycope grilled some barbecues and some guests went to his home for dinner.
From the Pen of the Editor

He walked through the food line, and happily oblivious to the glares of those in line behind him, the student reached out and quickly stuffed the last six doughnuts on his tray. His only concern was making off with the doughnuts unobserved by the soda jerks.

Certainly, selfishness is a trait as natural as breathing. Selfishness recognizes no age limits in its taintation of the human race. The tiny baby cries to receive attention! The child hides his favorite toys so that no one can prevent other children from playing with them; the teenager desires the prettiest dress, the cutest fellow or girl, and that "sharpest" ear; the husbantinness shamelessly maneuvers his affairs to insure the most profit for himself. Selfishness definitely touches those of every age, race, or creed.

Webster defines selfishness as "a undue regard for one's own interests, regardless of those of others." Human nature impresses the characteristic of self-centeredness upon each of us. All of our basic goals, desires, and needs stem from this root of selfishness—must succeed! Attempt to analyze the motives for your daily actions.

The Spiritual Scope:

As the days swiftly pass, one hardly has time to sit and think about the events which happened two or three months ago. Although many centuries separate us from the actual events which took place in Christ's time, they still affect us today.

A few weeks ago people the world over were stirred to the point of tears over the crucifixion of the Saviour. This event should make everyone realize that we were a risen Saviour, not to say a dress extra special and hunt eggs.

Candid Campus

"For I am persuaded that neither death nor life, . . . nor powers, nor things present, nor things to come ... nor height, nor depth, nor the classroom, nor the newsroom, nor any other creature shall separate Christ Jesus from the love of a caring—through the partition between the girls' residence hall and the married couple quarters."

DAN FEE discovered at quarter to ten last Sunday morning that the choir books hadn't been brought over in time for the auditorium. He and a friend raced off to get them. Down to the Power Plant, which they found deserted, and up the tunnel they trudered. The choir just outrighted as the doors at the end were locked. After frenzied searchings they finally found someone to let them in and then staggered back to the auditorium with the folders.

The observant may have noticed that we of the boards looked a little out of it during the afternoon, that is morning. There's a rumor going around that JOE JACINTHA thinks that the president of the Student Senate should be presented with four new tires as a memento of his term in office.

Would you believe three flats in one week?

LOE HARRIS has been practicing up on her Sunday School song leading techniques on the way to a track meet. She was not without vocal accompaniments, included CHUB JOHNSON, RUTH GROOT, KAHEN ERICKSON who ... may be shocked to realize that almost every action is motivated by a hope for self-betterment. Our world must revolve around the omnipotent 'I.' In fact, rather than a selfish act, it is an unselfish act which creates the most sensation. Should a mother lose her life in saving her child's, the public considers her courageous, heroic, and unselfish.

Yet Christ, in teaching the two most important commandments, stated, "And shall love the Lord thy God with all thy heart and all the soul, and with thy mind, and with all thy strength; this is the first commandment. And the second is like, namely, this, 'Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself.' There is none other commandment greater than these." In all of his teachings, Christ stressed this quality of self-denial; 'turn the other cheek, deny yourself, bless them that curse you.' There was, and still is, no room for the omnipotent 'I' in Christ's teachings. And I believe that Christ held the one solution to self-denial; 'turn the other every problem of mankind. Yours is the challenge of accepting that solution. It is a challenge—and if accepted, there is great reward.

In the coming days the Ascension of Christ will be remembered, but will you stop and consider the significance of this day or will it pass as a usual day?

Here at ORU the life of Christ should hold an important place in each of our daily lives, for His actions should parallel our own as we use His life for our measuring rod for the Whole Man. We, more than any other group should realize that reflections on the past events of history can and must be our guide to the future. For the life of Christ altered the world and brought to all mankind a new hope.

The newest addition to ORU's list of extra-curricular activities is the Chess Club, which is sponsored by Mr. Snook, of the math department.

Students have joined the club for many reasons, the chief being a desire to enhance their chess prowess. The club is designed to give instructions on all levels of play and hopefully produce members of a team which will represent the school.

At meetings, the members will be presented chess puzzles, instructions, and will engage in games to determine their present skill and progress. No definite settings will be given this year as the time to get the club machinery organized and operating in preparation for next year.

During the 1966-1967 year, all players will be invited to lecture and play with our members. Other clubs will be invited for tournaments. Selected members will represent the club but all those who wish may play for own satisfaction.

Pep

Butch Ellington and Judy Mid- dien, pep club officers, also report that plans are under way for an outing before the close of school.

Senate Sidelines

The Student Senate has spent much time in the last few weeks discussing and revising Judicial Board penalties to make them more appropriate. The basic design for the Student Senate Spring Formal, one of the highlights of the year, will be held on May 6.

Mr. CLOUS, President of the ORU chapter, reports that plans are being made for a picnic some time this spring. These plans were discussed at the chapter's last meeting on Monday evening.

The Student Senate sponsored lapel pins and lavaliers were chosen—a triangular shaped gold base with a fl ame at the top and blue and white lettering.

Dean Grieser gave a report on new rules concerning women's sports on the ORU campus. Elections which are to be held at the end of May are now in the planning and organizing stages.

Mr. and Miss Campus

Dante's INFERNO

For weeks now, we have wracked the ever increasing readership of the center of our campus, and although the prayer pit (as it has come to be affectionately called) is noble in design, the engineers have become not a little disturbed about its execution. According to Dr. Free-lip and Fuzzbuz, the eminent scholars who first detected and measured the growth of Los Angeles, our prayer pit is now engulfing the sur-rrounding academic turf at the rate of one foot per each three-day period. We expected the thing to go up, not out, and upon returning to campus, my dander was up at the very foot of the men's dorm. There is no real objection, I guess, but odd nibbling noises were reportedly heard, and now a large chunk of terrain has completely disap-ppeared. Certainly sanctity and rea-nononal illegeke demand a deeper analysis of such a situation; even now, answers are being expounded to turn the dilemma.

The line does say, "the deep calls unto the deep," but does this scripture necessarily apply to a re-scene in paradise or a new age appetite for men's formitories?

2) Someone has suggested that a gaily illusion of Mrs. Jarvis' would be sufficient to一举 the sources of the pit, but Drs. Free-lip and Fuzzbuz have never tasted and so are in bewildered disagreement.

3) History club is also quite perturbed, and under the sage counsel of its leader, the weiner rusted over the eternal flame has been cancelled. As the genius put it: "Who knows whether the thing might like weiners?"

For many Americans, we are warm, sympathetic sentiments toward odorous circumstances, Dr. James Spalding, and "Can't the temporal danger to his Health Resources Council, has recognized an "if you can't beat 'em, join 'em attitude," and at last report he was said to have been at work in a new arena of the "whole prayer pit for the whole campus."

At any rate, our own dear campus, which began as tiny bits of sanctinous excavation (a comon enough beginning as prayer towers go), has become much more much than was ever suspected, and if something is not done soon, Drs. Free-lip and Fuzzbuz advise that the whole hole may someday be the largest feature of the whole campus.

History and English majors must take Speech 101, Fundamentals of Speech, next semester.

The Hand of God

A moment of complete wonder-ment, as I saw the hand of God, slowly lowering the stone into oblivion. I thought to myself--can't it be great to be alive and to feel God in nature? Oh, if only I could feel that way every moment of every day.

A gentleman is one who knows how to stand on his own two feet without treading someone else's toes.

Dutchman's DOUBLE DUTCH

This article is dedicated to the fearless and courageous chemistry students. Each Tuesday these students are faced with a life and death decision. Should they go to chemistry lab or should they preserve their lungs and stay away from class. If anyone has ever passed the lab on a Tuesday afternoon and taken a deep breath he would understand, when I say "hasn't the courageous students of Chemistry 102.

With our vast knowledge of chemistry we have assembled some of our best chemical experiments (the ones that worked)

1. How to make a firecracker.
First you need a large flask (coffee can) Carefully measure out two ounces of Nitric acid and two ounces of perchlorate. Carefully close the flask and shake vigorously. You should notice an immediate reaction. Be very careful not to get too much, for it could prove to be dangerous. You might destroy all of the United States instead of just half.

2. How to make a perfume. This is a must for all the girls to know

For this experiment you need a fruit jar, some Hydrochloric acid, and several Cyamidhyb pellets. Place the acid into the fruit jar. When you are alone with your boy friend or husband place several of these pellets into the jar, and sit back and relax. You will just be over the aroma of this perfume.

3. How to mix a new breakfast drink. For those of you who are complaining that your breakfast drinks are too dull and flat-tasting, this is for you. First carefully mix two ounces of Nitric acid and two ounces of perchlorate. Carefully close these two together and quickly drink it. Now for the most important part, jump up and down ten times. I will guarantee that the whole world will seem to explode.—will not quite the whole world—but you sure will.

Titans Open Season With Victories

Oval Roberts University started its baseball season with Northeaser A&M at Miami, Oklahoma on March 15, 1966.

Starting lineup for ORU batting first was: 1st, Brian Gelencher, center field; 2nd, Steve Alley, left field; 3rd, Jim Lawton, short-stope; 4th, Roger Stab, third base; 5th, Skip Schuler, outfield; 6th, Kenley Brown, second base; 7th, Ray Wilkerson, first base; 8th, Royce Bishop, catcher; and Bobby Wallis, pitcher.

Before an enthusiastic crowd at Miami, ORU lost its first opener to a 12-2 defeat. Winning pitcher for NEO was Dunn. Losing was Wallis. Dunn, $80,000 bonus-baby for Los Angeles Dodgers, pitched a well-controlled game for NEO. In the eighth inning, Dunn came to bat grounding to third baseman Bishop, Bishop hurled his ball first to Dennis in the dead area. Scoring in the 5th game ORU scored both runs in the third inning. Wallis led off with a strike-out. Gelencher reached first base on a error and Alley coming to bat hit a dribbler to the pitcher. A wild pitch put Gelencher on second base and Alley on first. Wallis came to bat in the 5th inning. A fly ball put Gelencher out at third. Lawton "steal" to second put runners on 2 & 3. Leaving the bases with Bishops walk, Stab singled to right field allowing Alley to score the first run of the season. Stab's first RBI of the season put runners on first, second and third base. Schuler ended the inning with a strike out. Wallis struck out 5 during the game, gave up 2 base-on-balls, one wild pitch and one pass ball. Dunn, winning pitcher for NEO struck out 15, gave up 5 base-on-balls in the opener.

The second game of the season was with St. Gregory Junior College, Shawnee, Oklahoma. Striking out eleven, St. Gregory batters and giving up only 5 base-on-balls, Wallis, pitched one of the finest games of his career. St. Gregory scored their first 2 runs in the second inning. Read threw in the 8th, with Alley's strike-out; Lawton singled to left field, enabling him to steal to second and third base. Stab popped to third, put an easy out at first. With two out Virgil Meares came to bat, taking two strikes in succession. Lawton, four- ing Meares wouldn't get on, stranded home siding safely to score the runs and Inn, but not to the empire. St. Gregory came back in the bottom of the eighth with one single and two doubles ending the game 4-2.

ORU was host to Oklahoma Tech in their home opener at LaFortune Park, March 24, 1966. Hit from the first pitch, Alley proceeded to first base on a walk. Lawton and Bishop loaded the bases for ORU, with a third walk. Roger Stab came to bat hitting a slow roller to third base. St. Gregory last control of the ball in the throw to home, enabling Alley and Lawton to slide under the throw for a 2-2 lead. Victory was in the bag with 4 runs for ORU and 7 hits for St. Gregory. Wallis pitched a good brand of ball ending the opener for a 8-2 victory for the Titans.

The second game of the double header was a hard-fought battle throughout the seven innings. Chris Thompson pitched the first innings bringing himself out of numerous jams. Wallis relieved Thompson with the bases loaded. Although he came in a tight spot, Wallis threw them out 1-2-3, ending ORU's season home opener with a 6-2 victory.

About a year ago, President Oral Roberts, handed a young man named Bill White the keys to a modernistic new Goldhouse and told him to build an athletic program.
