James Webb Telescope has Entered Orbit!

After decades of work, the James Webb Telescope has entered orbit after being launched on December 24th, 2021. This telescope is the successor of the Hubble telescope which launched in 1990. James Webb Telescope has many features that put it above Hubble such as its ability to gaze at infrared light, its larger mirror which gives it a larger field of view, and the distance it will reach. All of these features will give us a better glimpse into the unknown of Outer-Space.

What are university students up to?

ForU, a social awareness clothing brand at ORU in Tulsa, OK, is ready to release its latest volume on eating disorders titled "Custom Made". This campaign focuses on eating disorders and body image issues that millions of people in our generation face today. They do this through pieces that remind them of the unique, intricate, and beautiful ways that our Lord has designed us. They will be donating a percent of the profits to Laureate Psychiatric Clinic in Tulsa, OK which will further help them treat individuals who suffer anorexia, bulimia, and other eating-related disorders. Their exclusive pop-up dates are January 20 & 21, 2022 at ORU's campus in Tulsa, Ok. Keep up with ForU by following them on Instagram!
