AUDIO-VIDEO SYSTEM IN OPERATION

The Learning Resources audio-video system is now in operation on the fourth floor of the Learning Resources Center.

Students may now listen in a study area equipped with headphones, listen to recorded lectures by simply dialing the code number of the tape they wish to hear.

Other learning equipment and library material is continually being added for the convenience of ORU students.

According to Mr. William Jernigan, head librarian, back issues of magazines, newspapers, and journals will soon be available on microfilm and in principal form. This will make the ORU library more interesting when Tulsa hosts the Oklahoma Library Association late in April.

ORU Initiates Fine Arts Week

Original paintings by great masters, including Raphael, Del Sarto, and Arc by Murillo were on display in the Learning Resources Center during ORU’s Fine Arts Week, March 13 through 19. Both of the paintings were of the Holy Family. ORU students had clay figurines paintings and art notebooks displayed on the first floor. Dean Charlene Grinter showed an abstract painting of a rubber plant and Charles Bates Jr., also had an abstract painting on display.

One of the most fascinating exhibits was that of violin maestro by Professor Stroton and his students. The techniques employed were used by Stradivarius in fashionable world-famous violins. Professor Stroton re-discovered this lost art and sold into Europe.

Professor Stroton had a number of his other works on display. The painter cast for “The Horses of the Apocalypse” was only in rough form, yet betrayed a sculptor’s mastery. The landscapes of Edwin Harris and the works of several of Professor Stroton’s students from Evangel College, Springfield, Missouri, were also exhibited.

CHOIR PRESENTS “SEVEN LAST WORDS OF CHRIST”

The cantata “Seven Last Words of Christ” was presented by the sixty-voice ORU choir March 19, in the ORU auditorium at 8:00 p.m. The choir, under the direction of Mr. Robert Clawsen, was accompanied by Mrs. Betty Knott.

The “Seven Last Words of Christ” is a sacred cantata for soloists, choir, and organ. It is the most commonly performed work during the Lenten season in the United States and Europe. It is based on the seven last words which Christ spoke, with the choir singing the parts of the church.

By June the library will contain about 50,000 volumes, worth more than $400,000. At present it has 300 volume record collection, expected to reach 900 next year. This collection will become Robert of the music department when the Fine Arts Building is constructed.

Mr. Jernigan feels that students are using the library facilities a great deal, but they are reluctant to ask for help from the professional librarians on duty. He said, “It is my desire that we have the best possible collection for the students. I want them to be as happy as possible in using the library, and are here to help the students in any way possible.”

ORU Students Attend UN Conference

A group of about 40 ORU students were invited to attend a United Nations Conference at the University of Tulsa on March 12.

The conference was sponsored by the Tulsa chapter of the UN Association and featured Clark M. Rich, speaker, and president of the national UN Association. He discussed the fundamental issue confronting the UN.

Dr. Ed Cadenhead, Dr. Philip Halsey, and Dr. William Sackett, TU professors, spoke on voting problems and the making of the UN, economic and social progress of underdeveloped areas in the world, and outer space, respectively.

Carnegie Hall Performance on Campus

Mrs. Val Goff Norton gave a piano recital on Saturday evening, March 26, in the University Auditorium. This recital was given prior to her Carnegie Hall performance on April 19 in New York City. Norton was presented with a Mrs. Norton at Carnegie Hall.

An enthusiastic crowd responded warmly to the accomplished touch of Mrs. Norton as she performed the following compositions:

-Sonata, Op. 1 (1908) by Berg; Sonata (1939) by Stravinsky; Sonata No. 9, Op. 68 (1913) by Scriabin; and six Etudes from “Dusky Studies of Russian Composers” by Rubenstein. Immediately following the recital a reception was held in the Timko. Ms. Norton and her husband, Dr. Mead, were hostess.

Val Goff Norton, pianist and faculty member of ORU, is well known in the Northwestern United States for her solo and chamber performances.

In addition to various scholarships and assistantships, she studied piano and voice at the Freiburg, Germany, Music Academy on a “Fullbright” scholarship. While in Germany, she toured under the auspices of the American Musical Tour of America. Mrs. Norton was also the recipient of a full scholarship at the Berkshire Music Center (Tanglewood).

Mrs. Norton has had several solo performances with the Tulsa Philharmonic Orchestra, the first, a solo part in an all-school concert, as the winner of the Third Annual Young Artists’ Auditions. At the University of Tulsa she studied under Bella Russ. In Germany she was studied under Edith Picht-Axelsson, and at the University of Indiana, Sidney Foster was her instructor.

Her voice teachers include Betty Krier Murphy Milligan, Margaret Von Winterfeld, and Agnes Davis.

Serenity

Serenity fills the atmosphere as we slowly thread our way up a rocky, winding hill upon which the only sign of life is a few scattered boulders.

Serenity awakens our spirit and fills our gazer with wonder at the crumpled balls of bills and interminable bills before we find a hastily dropped wad ofence. Serenity is displayed by the stillness which minutes ago had been broken by the cries of the dying and the noisy pandemonium on the blood-soaked soil, as raindrops fell on a soulless heap of whatever evil one.

The Spiritual Scope: Prayer

There are many ways in which one can pray. To pray completely, one must learn to understand what prayer actually is. Prayer in its simplest form is direct communication with God. It can be a request or a simple praise of His goodness and mercy; but whatever it is, prayer must be undertaken lightly. When we pray we are accepting the fact that there is a Supreme Being, and that this God who rules the world is concerned about our smallest need and desire. We can have the assurance that He hears us and is ready to help us.

To become more meaningful in your life, silence the words of Paul 10:4 and give your soul prayer.

THE ROBE

BY SHERER WILEY

In the years during which Christ lived on earth and the Roman Empire was at its peak, Marcellus, son of a Roman Senator, was punished for offending the prince. His punishment was to be appointed commander of the fort of Alma, an offshoot of the Roman military colony in Southern Palatine. While at Chalmette, Marcellus was visited in charge of the crucifixion of a Jew and his family who was the object of their hate. He was sentenced for Manichaeism. While in a drunken stupor Marcellus fell into possession of the crucified man's robe. After trying it on, Marcellus nearly went insane thru the monstrous use of the robe. In its use Marcellus was brought to his senses. Together Marcellus and Demetrius set out to find the robe and his home. The robe seemed to give him more honor and confidence.

As the author of THE ROBE, Lloyd Douglas substantiates the intricacy of what was inspired by Biblical tales. Although many different characters and happenings seem to occur at once, the plot is well interwoven so the reader seems to live thru the lives of the people. great mystery of the blood-sodden brown cross is explained as a very excellent look in its execution.

Senate Sidelines

BY RUTH GROOT

The ORU Student Senate has been busy working on campus rules, plans, and other things. It has spent much time regulating University policy and investigating student benefit programs.

Due to a misunderstanding and lack of communication between the Student Senate and the Administration, many ideas have been reversed and further notice. Reconsiderations must be given to them.

A constitutional revision, handbook, and an increase in Senate and Student Committee have been formed. The purpose of the revision, handbook, and Student Handbook Committee is to accomplish the constitution for needed revision and to place campus rules, plans, and similar events.

The Senate feels that this first concept of ORU should be some sort of momentum distinguishing it from all succeeding classes. Charles Bannister, Professor Stimson and Paul Soekly are designing lavatories for the women students and lapis pad for men students.

Following a resolution given to him by the Senate, Mr. Treadaway reports that maps of Oklahoma and Tulsa will be placed in both the men's and women's residence halls.

The Senate looks forward to the fall session and will continue to work on various phases of campus life.

YVONNE DYKSTRA
NEWCOMERS

BY JIM WHITLOCK
Yvonne Dykstra and Ron Mushegan, who joined the ORU student body at the beginning of the second semester, The Oracle now introduces them to any readers who may not yet have become acquainted with them.

Yvonne, who plans to major in social work on campus, came from Andorahga, Alaska. Her family moved to Anchorage from Grand Rapids, Michigan, in 1980. She learned about ORU through a friend and then attended the seminar Youth Seminar last June. People told her, "like they are in Alaska," and the presence of the Lord was real. When the seminar was over and it was time to leave, she knew that she would be returning.

Yvonne's hobbies are oil painting and sketching. It is her life's subject. According to her, Mr. Stryker is a "funtastic" instructor.

"There are a bunch of real wonderful things that are going on, but some of the students need to have more respect for the professor. We need to take our test-taking and criticism to peer by itself; that's a part of growing up."

Ron is a music major from Glen- dale, Arizona. He was attracted to ORU by "The Outreach" and information given him by a member of his church who is a Regent of the University.

Ron has had experience in personal witnessing and counseling. He thinks there is no joy like winning a soul for Christ. After completing his education, he plans to enter the ministry and will probably work in the area of youth evangelism. "The spiritual atmosphere of the University means a lot to me," he says. "I am especially impressed with the spirituality of the faculty. It is great to be in a school where the word, truth, and love are not hidden from their students.

"We heard "fashion" holds quite a variety of connotations. Let's talk about "fashion" as it goes into making one fashionable."

fad vs. Style

On almost any given day, one can pick up a newspaper and read about the "latest" from some designer. It seems the fashion scene is one of constant upheaval and change. But if we take a closer look, we shall discover that there's more to fashion than first appears. We shall attempt to look at fashion through the eyes of several characters.

"Fashion! When you saw this in your first language class, you thought it was for you... expensive clothes... the latest look from Paris?"

Your hearing was not wrong, but what came to mind was not the "latest" from some designer. It seems the fashion scene is one of constant upheaval and change. But if we take a closer look, we shall discover that there's more to fashion than first appears. We shall attempt to look at fashion through the eyes of several characters.

With changing mental conditions of American youth, fashion is constantly changing. The styles may appear and disappear within the fashion framework. Sometimes a fad becomes a style; both are currently what is happening today.

Within the same markets. The same products are said to be fashion, but not necessarily developed. The brand names of these fad styles are often overlooked and a person trying to look at styles usually looks for old-fashioned, cheap fashions, especially those that are dressed in the same way. We shall attempt to look at fashion through the eyes of several characters.

Titan’s End First Season

The Oral Roberts University Titan finished their initial basketball season with an 18-10 record. Congratulations to Coach White, Coach, and the boys for their tremendous season.

The season opener for Oral Roberts University was an away game at Oklahoma Christian College. The Titans won the high scoring game by the score of 105-94. Jerry Gagnon was the high scorer with 36 points. Paul Nason tied for second with 30 points. Arnold Coles scored 16 points in the first half, but fouled out early in the second half.

The home opener was marked with exceptional enthusiasm by the student body. The team obliged the crowd by besting Oklahoma Tech, 71-60. Gagnon scored back to back in the second half after trailing by four points at the half. Arnold Coles came off the bench for Shawnee, Okla., to lead Oklahoma with 28 points.

Jerry Gagnon continued his high scoring with 22 points to help ORU defeat Phillips University by a score of 13-28. Nate Harris, former Tulsa all-stater, scored 16 points.

December 2-4 were the dates of the Northeastern A&M Invitational Tournament at Miami, Oklahoma. This was the first Junior College Tournament ORU has entered. The first team the Titans came up against was Kansas State College Jr. varsity, which fell by the score of 85-72. Next, ORU played the home team, NEO A&M. The high point man for the Titans was lay-up man, Paul Madsen with 17 points.

Northern Iowa took the game, 65-74. Oral Roberts University beat the consolation bout to Cinderella Harris and his best game with 32 Harris has his best game with 31 points.

Right after the tournament, the Titans flew to California for two games. The first was against Chico State Junior College of Long Beach, California. Silverhead collected 27 points as the Titans lost, 69-78. Long Beach College City was one of the toughest of the season, but was lost by the score of 104-82.

In the closing game of the season, Oklahoma College University came to the ORU field house on February 28. The score at the first half was 44-44. In favor of the Titans, with a weakened offense late in the second half, OCC pulled away with a 109-60 victory, spoiling the Titans perfect home game record. Woody Jones had his hottest night with 17 points.

The final record for the Titans was 18 wins, against 10 losses.
