ORU showcase

Television special uses Mabee Center Setting

by Renée Colwill

Oklahoma, along with ORU, will be showcased in the next Oral Roberts television special. Highlighting the program will be guest appearances by the Rev. Billy Graham and pianist Roger Williams, along with Oklahoma Governor David Hall, Tulsa Mayor Robert LaFortune, and W. W. Keeler, chief of the Cherokee nation. The filming will center on the theater quadrant of Mabee Center, but the entire campus and its faculty, students, and staff are the most important part of the setting.

Singers, choir, Williams

Beginning the program in a medley, Richard and Patti Roberts will be joined by the World Action Singers, led by Larry Dalton, and the 48-voice concert choir, led by Tony Catanzariti. Besides singing together in the opening, the groups will sing together with Williams' numbers and also for the finale.

Three student groups will also feature musical talent. They are "The Morning Sun," a male trio composed of Lonnie Shields, Jerry Williams, and Larry Stockstill; "Souls A'Fire," a mixed black group led by Carlton Pearson; and the guitar and singing combination of David Stearman and Cindy Johnson.

Cherokee passion play

To exhibit Oklahoma beauty, a segment of a Cherokee passion play, "Trail of Tears," will be shown. Introduced by Governor David Hall, the segment of this play performed in Tahlequah, Okla., will be approximately five minutes long.

Mayor Robert LaFortune will introduce the ORU Titans and Coach Ken Trickey. The Titans will be dressed in their uniforms and will run through some drill routines. Following this, President Roberts will interview Titan star Richard Fuqua, senior, for about four minutes.

Roger Williams will entertain with several numbers on the piano. Between the selections he and President Roberts will comment on his faith in God and his life as a preacher's son.

A sit-down conversation with President Roberts will be the setting for Billy Graham's appearance. During this time they will recall memories of the ORU dedication. Graham delivered the dedication address on the grass between Braxton and Shakarian Halls. They will also discuss the role that he is performing in the spiritual movement of the country today.

First on campus special

The one-hour presentation, which is the first prime time Contact television special filmed on the ORU campus, will be filmed Tuesday and Wednesday, October 17 and 18. Tuesday morning the taping will begin with the segment of "Trail of Tears." Actual taping of the on-campus features will begin at 7 p.m. Tuesday with the opening medley, the Roger Williams segment, Richard Robert's solo, President Robert's sermon and prayer, and the finale. Wednesday morning at 11 o'clock the interview with Billy Graham will be taped, and at 1 p.m. the student groups will be taped.

Many of those involved will rehearse at Mabee Center on the Sunday and Monday preceding the filming with the choreographer, Andre Tayir. The director and producer for this special, as for the others, will be Dick Ross.

To ensure that the filming of the special has the highest priority in the minds and schedules of all members of the university community, classes will be canceled all day Tuesday to enable all the students and faculty to attend the two major filming sessions for the special. The first is from 9:30 a.m. to 12 noon and the second is from 6:30 to 10 p.m. Attendance at these sessions is required and roll will be taken. These two sessions will take the place of chapel on Wednesday, October 18.

"There will be more spiritual emphasis in this special than in those preceding it," Richard Roberts stated. "We feel that the American public is beginning to accept us for what we are, and we're becoming bolder in our witness for Christ. America is more ready now for fewer guests and entertainment and more of the basics of what we believe."

Pianist Roger Williams, above, and evangelist Billy Graham are among the guest stars in the upcoming Oral Roberts hour special to be filmed on campus. The program will be aired on national television during the first part of December and features the state of Oklahoma and the university.

Chairmen's Council establishes policy

The Chairmen's Council, chaired by Dr. Carl H. Hamilton, has established a uniform policy for grade changes as of October 2.

All grade changes after grades have been officially submitted to the registrar's office must be handled as petitions for academic exception. These petitions are processed by the academic policies subcommittee of the Chairmen's Council. The petition for academic exception forms are available in the registrar's office.

Policy on the processing of incomplete remains the same. An incomplete is given only for cause (illness or some other reason that is acceptable to the professor) with the approval of the chairman. The incomplete will remain on the books for one semester or can be extended at the discretion of the professor by memo to the registrar's office. If the semester ends without the professor's granting the extension, the "I" automatically becomes an "F." When the incomplete is cleared and becomes a letter grade, the change is handled as a petition for academic exception. After an "I" has become a recorded "F," the student may petition if he has reason for not completing the work. This is handled as a petition for academic exception subject to the approval of the chairmen.

The Chairmen's Council is composed of Hamilton, all department chairmen, Dr. William Jernigan, Chuck Ramsay, Jr., Gary Sulander, Jack Wallace, and Helen Inbody.

Ramsay announces 1,822 full, part-time students

Oral Roberts University enrollment statistics for fall semester '72 reveal an approximate 33 per cent increase over full and part-time enrollment totals for the last school year.

Chuck Ramsay, Vice-President of Admissions and Records, said the full and part-time student enrollment level has reached a high of 1,822 students this fall, compared to a total enrollment of 1,375 students in the preceding fall term. The new total, Ramsay said, does not include evening students.

Evening student population is currently tallied at 925, bringing the university part-time, full time, and evening total to 2,747. Evening students comprise ORU members, regular evening students, and Tulsa residents. The evening student enrollment has been noticeably increased by attendance of the Holy Spirit seminar taught by President Roberts.

Oral Roberts University is rapidly approaching its projected maximum enrollment level of 3,000 graduate and undergraduate students.

Classes cancelled

All classes are cancelled Tuesday, October 17, for the filming in Mabee Center. Students are required to attend sessions from 9:30 a.m. until 12 noon and from 6:30 until 10 p.m. Attendance will be taken.

Ms. reactions continue

Ms. refers to all women

Dear Editors:

My letter is in response to a letter appearing in the Oracle two weeks ago. This letter was concerning the use of Ms. as the female title. I would like to respectfully disagree with the author. As a woman, and a married one at that, I don't feel that my "womanhood" or anything else about me is being denied when I am referred to as Ms. Neither do I believe that the term is used out of a "spirit of fear." It's just a term which refers to all women, married or unmarried.

Have you ever thought about the meaning of "Mr."? It denotes man, either married or single and makes no distinction between the two. Therefore, why should there be a separate standard for women (you notice I refrain from the use of the word "double" there!)

However, I don't want it to be assumed that by approving the use of the term in question, we women are trying to deny our marriages. Nothing could be further from the truth! It is simply a more appropriate term to be used until someone wises up and gives separate titles for married men and single men.

Roberta Potts
Another senior in History

Reader 'sets it straight'

For the past two weeks I have opened my ORACLE and read with much dismay and concern, the idle chatter over the use of

Ms. as a reference to the female sex. There have been several hit-and-miss explanations and cross-examinations for the reason behind the usage of this abbreviation. Now it is time to set the record straight. According to the 8th edition, College Typewriting, 1969, South-Western Publishing Company, the use of Ms. is as follows:

Personal Titles. Always use an appropriate personal title on a letter, envelope, or card addressed to an individual. When a woman's marital status is NOT known, use Miss as the personal title. (The abbreviation Ms. may also be used.)

So you see, it is not a matter of contributing to the ministry of the campus or to denote whether a lady belongs to her father or a husband.

Frosh officers set three goals: unity, communication, maturity

After the flurry of election week, Darvi Williams emerged victorious in the race for freshman class president last Friday. The 372 freshmen who voted also elected Rob Mitchell vice president, Sue Bohling secretary, and Lois Loomer treasurer.

Darvi said, "One of my main goals is to get the freshman class unified. After this, I can work on problems that they bring to me." He also plans to hold regular meetings to keep freshmen informed of happenings on campus and especially in Student Senate.

Unity, communication, and maturity are three of the goals Rob Mitchell has set for the freshman class this year. He said, "Maturity is one of the most important things we as freshmen need. We have a long way to go. The more fully we get into the swing of things, the better off we'll be." He also added, "I look forward to a good class this year, because we have so much talent in our class."

Upperclassmen chose class treasurers last Friday also. Kathy Blake was chosen sophomore treasurer, with 160 sophomores voting. Rob Stacey received the majority of the 99 votes cast by juniors. The 96 voting seniors selected Clinton Sparks as their class treasurer.

YVP elects Chaney, establishes office

Brant Chaney was elected chairman of the ORU Young Voters for the President (YVP) during their meeting September 28. Other officers are Dave Walters, vice-chairman, and Helen Mogen, secretary. Those appointed to serve as committee chairmen were Sue Hopkins, membership; Gary Tempco, publicity; Karen Robinson, campus voters; and Chris Wehrli, projects.

Officers and committee chairmen are scheduled to meet with Betsy Mayo, ORU director of YVP, on Friday, October 13, at 3:15 p.m.

Office space for ORU headquarters has been provided on the fourth floor of the Learning Resources Center by Dr. Raymond Long, the organization's sponsor.

Posters and T-shirts ordered at the YVP booth on Rush Nite have arrived; posters are priced at $1.00 each, T-shirts are $2.00. Those who wish to follow up orders on either of these items are asked to get in touch with Betsy Mayo, telephone 299-5229 (home), or 749-5066 (Nixon Tulsa Headquarters).

YVP members remind all voters, regardless of party affiliation, who are registered somewhere other than in Tulsa County, to contact their election board for absentee ballot form applications.

Senate Soundings

Student solons approve committee appointments

This column does not represent the opinion of the Oracle staff, the Student Senate, or the ORU student body as a whole. It is merely one student's view of Senate and how it works.

Committee appointments were the main concern of the Student Senate in last Monday morning's meeting. Student Affairs Committee positions were given to Bob Isbell, senior representative; Stan Suttles, sophomore representative; and Joyce Sumner, minority representative. Joey Ruiz was appointed to the Food Committee. Senate appointed Tim Brummit and Tim Thuston to the Curriculum Committee. Positions on the Learning Resources Student-Faculty Committee and the Student Publications Committee are still open. The junior, freshman, and commuter positions on Student Affairs are also available.

Dave Little, president of the American Association of Evangelical Students (AAES), reported on last weekend's conference at Evangel College, Springfield, Mo. The theme for the conference was "The Christian in Politics." A more detailed report will be given in next week's session.

Brian Stalwick, Senate parliamentarian, announced that in the future, Senate meetings will be governed by the parliamentary rules which are in practice in the Oklahoma state legislature. The senators will be properly addressed, and all proposals and amendments will be presented in written form. This attempt to formalize Senate procedures is an admirable one. It will lend dignity to the meetings and will allow the students to learn and become familiar with standard legislative procedures.

Diane Steere and Gary Crafton, presidents of the Associated Women Students and the Associated Men Students, respectively, offered to have their organizations sponsor the all-school Halloween party.

The OTC season opens October 11 with Neil Simon's "The Last of the Red Hot Lovers."

Committee wants 'feedback surveys'

The Student Senate Communications Committee is sponsoring "Feedback." Under the direction of Glenn Bailey, "Feedback," hopes to survey student opinion and thought on campus issues. Anyone interested should contact Bailey at P.O. Box 173. The next meeting of the committee is Monday, October 16.

Forum slates political debate

Political issues surrounding the 1972 presidential race will be the subject of debate at the second Communicator's Forum October 30. Jointly sponsored by the Communication Arts Department and the Committee to Re-elect the President, the Forum will convene in Zoppelt Auditorium from 7 to 9:30 p.m.

Ray Percy and Neil Wallace, debaters from Tulsa University, will assist two ORU debaters in the discussion.

Minvard wins extemp tourney

Don Minyard, ORU freshman, placed second in Men's Extemporaneous Speaking last Friday at a speech tournament held at Northern Oklahoma Junior College in Tonkawa.

Don comes to ORU with several awards to his credit. In 1970, he placed first in the Optimist National Oratorical Contest. Last May he received a third place award in the American Legion Contest.

RICHARD M. NIXON

Nixon on the issues

Still negotiating for peace

Indochina

In Hampton, N. H., March 5, 1968, President Nixon promised: "If in November this war is not over, after all of this power has been at their (the Johnson Administration's) disposal, then I say that the American people will be justified to elect new leadership. And I pledge to you the new leadership will end the war and win the peace in the Pacific."

Nearly four years in office have revealed a two-track negotiating-while-fighting approach. On the negotiating track, the Administration's political aim has been to reach a settlement which would not "abandon" the South Vietnamese government of President Nguyen van Thieu. The Nixon administration and the Thieu government have refused to negotiate for some sort of coalition government in Naigon. North Vietnam and the Provisional Revolutionary Government in South Vietnam have insisted on that as a next step. Hence the war goes on.

Nixon, in contacts with China and the Soviet Union, has attempted to convince the leaders of these countries to use their influence with North Vietnam to change its political demands.

Busing

Nixon said August 3, 1971, "I have consistently opposed the busing of our nation's school children to achieve a racial balance . . ." On March 24, 1972, he proposed a moratorium on all new busing orders by federal courts, and a $2.5 billion program to improve education of children from poor families, plus permanent restraint on busing for desegregation.

Taxes

In 1971 the administration submitted its own recommendations for changes in the tax laws, aimed primarily at stimulating the economy. It proposed a cut in taxes of $27.3 billion over a 3-year period, allocated thus:

individual tax cut: $2.2 billion business tax cut: 20.1 billion auto excise tax cut: 5.0 billion

Before final passage, Congress increased the individual tax cuts substantially and decreased business tax cuts. Anticipating additional tax legislation next year, the Nixon administration has floated the idea of a "value-added tax," basically a federal sales tax. If Nixon is re-elected, this could become a major legislative proposal. McGovern opposes the value-added tax.

Welfare

Early in his administration, Nixon proposed a Family Assistance Program under which the federal government would provide a minimum payment to eligible categories. These would include families (but not single persons or childless couples) and the working poor. The President's current proposal calls for a federal payment of $2,400 a year for a family of four. This represents less money than 90 per cent of current recipients receive in cash and food stamp benefits. States are not required to supplement the federal payment.

AGE: 59. HOME: San Clemente, Calif. DENOMINATION: Quaker. OFFICES: House of Representatives, 1947-1950; U. S. Senate, 1950-1952; Vice-President, 1953-1961. FAMILY: Wife, Patricia, two children.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS: The Nixon Presidency is most notable for his dramatic and well publicized trips to Peking and Moscow. The potential for improved U. S. relations with the People's Republic of China was a significant contribution of his term. Other notable events during the Nixon administration include Strategic Arms agreements with the Soviet Union and his unusual opportunity to fill four vacancies on the Supreme Court.

McGovern on the same issues

Vietnam: end the war now

Indochina

McGovern's peace proposal includes the immediate cessation of bombing on Inauguration Day and the withdrawal of troops from Indochina within 90 days of Inauguration, ending the U. S. involvement there and bringing the POW's home. He also said he would keep a small number of troops in Thailand until the POW's are released. The Democratic Platform also states: "After the end of U. S. direct combat participation, military aid to the Saigon Government, and elsewhere in Indochina, will be terminated."

Busing

McGovern voted against the Dole amendment which would have barred federal courts from ordering busing of school children on the basis of race, color, religion, or national origin. The Dole amendment was rejected 47-48. He states, "I believe that school busing and redistricting, as ordered by the federal courts, are among the prices we are paying for a century of segregation in our housing pattern. For more than a generation black children were bused to avoid integrating schools."

Taxes

In the Senate, McGovern voted to reduce the administration's recommended accelerated tax write-offs on business assets; he favored limiting to $70,000 per company per year the administration-supported investment tax credit, thus favoring small and medium sized businesses; he voted against an administration proposal allowing U. S. firms to set up special corporations to defer taxes on half of their incomes from export sales.

McGovern unsuccessfully proposed an excess war profits tax in 1969 as an alternative to the surtax on personal income to pay for the war.

McGovern proposes to relieve the local property tax burden by having the federal government assume about one-third of the cost of primary and secondary education.

Welfare

Originally, McGovern proposed a minimum income grant of $1,000 for each person. On August 29 he proposed a three-part system of "National Income Insurance: (1) a job guarantee for all people able and willing to work, (2) expanded Social Security to include all aged, blind and disabled at a monthly payment of at least $150, (3) an annual minimum of approximately $4,000 in cash and in food stamps for a family of four with no other income who are unable to work. He proposed a study of a system of tax credits and tax reductions to supplement the meager incomes of the working poor.

GEORGE S. MCGOVERN

AGE: 50 HOME: Mitchell, S. D. DENOMINATION: Methodist. OFFICES: House of Representatives, 1957-1961; U. S. Senate since 1963. FAMILY: Wife, Eleanor; five children.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS: Senator McGovern is best known for his longstanding and steadfast opposition to the Indochina War. He was one of the first to sponsor anti-war legislation in the Senate. He has made the war and U. S. military policy a central issue in his campaign.

In 1961, President Kennedy appointed him the first director of the Food for Peace program, where he served until elected to the Senate in 1962. As a senator, he continued his efforts by serving as chairman of the Select Committee on Nutrition and Human Needs.

Dating, academics...

Shields enjoy job as dorm directors

by Rachel Wagner

Counseling, RC meetings, and 250 (488 together) students are all a part of Don and Joyce Shields' lives now since they have assumed duties as dorm directors of the new twin-tower dormitory. "I never intended to go into any type of ministry or to be a counselor," commented Don. "I was a business major and I intended to do that. I feel as if my job here is really God-given." Joyce, having taught a year of high school in Florida, added that "Teaching was okay and people said I did a 'good job,' but I didn't feel inside that it was what it was supposed to be. Now I really have a feeling of satisfaction."

Don said the thing he enjoys most about his work is helping students. "I never thought I would enjoy doing something like I'm doing, but I really am. It's benefiting me more, probably, than the students. It is a very self-satisfying thing to help someone and to me that is what life is all about."

Working under Jack Wallace and Helen Inbody, Don and Joyce each occupy offices near their apartment on the main floor of the new twin-tower dorms. They are there each afternoon and evening, except Monday, which, as Joyce explains, is their day off.

'You have to expect anything'

Assuming their new positions was somewhat of a change for Don and Joyce, who have been married four years. "It's really different living here," commented Joyce. "You can't imagine it until you do it—you have to be ready, and expect anything, which we have."

The couple, on duty until after curfew each night, don't feel that their privacy is being invaded. "The kids really respect our privacy," Joyce says. "When they know it's our day off they try extra hard not to bother us." Gary and Cheryl Kuney, dorm directors in the women's residence hall, take over on the Shields' day off and Don and Joyce, in turn, take over for the Kuneys on their day off. "Saturday and Sunday are usually pretty quiet in the dorm and it's quiet most nights. A lot of nights we're not bothered at all. Other nights everything can happen—both phones ringing at once and somebody knocking at the door," Joyce explained.

'They need someone who cares'

Students seek their counsel, some just to have someone to talk to, while others may have more serious problems. "Something might seem small to us, but it is a big problem to them," Don said. "They need someone who cares to sit down and listen to them," Joyce added. "Before this, they had older people, but the kids like it more to have someone younger to relate to. Many times the girls ask about marriage, dating, and academic matters which are facing them now."

ORU has changed quite a bit since Joyce was a student here the first three years the school was open. Don, serving in the Army in West Germany at this time, was discharged in 1968 and the couple married. Joyce transferred to Florida State University during her junior year to be with Don. Graduating from there in 1970 with a degree in Social Studies Education, she taught a year of high school while Don continued college at Florida Technological University in Orlando.

His desire to finish up and graduate from ORU brought them to Tulsa last fall. Joyce became a secretary for Jack Wallace, and Don finished school during the summer. Joyce has started work on her master's in counseling at Northeastern State College, Tahlequah, Okla.

Becoming dorm director is a type of ministry Joyce had always wanted. "It is rewarding for both of us," she said.

Joyce and Don Shields relax for a few moments during a busy day as directors for the Twin Towers dormitory.

Cheerleaders are no more...

Pompon girls take over

Cheerleaders are no more, at least here at Oral Roberts University. Eight pompon girls and four male yellers will now lead the basketball crowds in sideline cheers and gymnastic routines.

Male yell leaders are still being selected, but the selection of pompon girls is now final. The girls were selected mainly for personality, projection, smile, coordination, and Christian attitude.

"Because the needs of the new Mabee Center are so different from the HRC gym, we had to revamp our program," said Ms. Sharon Burton, faculty sponsor and gymnastics instructor. "The pompon girls will coordinate with a 40-piece pep band—and together will work as one unit."

"Right now the girls are all on crash diets and run the aerobics track five days a week. They also practice over an hour every day mastering the new routines."

"Plans call for the girls and the pep band both to wear coordinating crushed navy blue vests. Since most of the games are on either the East or West Coast, we don't plan to go to any away games, unless it is the NCAA or NIT finals."

On Thursdays, the girls film their routines in the TV studio in the LRC. This filming is allowing them to perfect their routines and see their weaknesses.

Erik Ulleberg takes fall tennis tourney

The Oral Roberts University Fall Tennis Championship came to a climax Sunday afternoon when ORU Titan, Erik Ulleberg, defeated top-seeded Dale Power, from Canada, to win the tournament.

Power, who is rated fourth in Canada, was a member of his homeland's Davis Cup team. He was seeded first for the ORU tournament, while Ulleberg was seeded fourth.

After winning two early games, Ulleberg defeated second-seeded Darrell Snyder in the semifinals. Ulleberg lost the first set in a tie breaker, 6-7, but came back to win the second and third sets 6-3, 6-3.

In the final match, which began at 1:30 p.m. Sunday, the finalists played before a large crowd of spectators. The Titan netter won the first set of the match in a tie breaker, 7-6. Even though Ulleberg had the advantage when serving, with the score 5-3, Power was able to come back and make it 6-6 and take the tie breaker, 7-6.

In the final set, after being down at one point 2-3, Ulleberg came back and took the set, 6-3, and the championship.

"Erik's backhand came through for us. I think what made the difference in the match was that he has been training in the weight room and was in good condition," said tennis coach Bernis Duke.

Other ORU players did well in the early stages of the tournament in which 64 players competed. Those participating represented the University of Arkansas, Oklahoma City University, Oklahoma State University, Tulsa University, and ORU. Also participating were several former college players.

Robin Gool and Evan Phillips each won one match while Carlos Puigmiquel won two matches before falling to Snyder.

The University of Arkansas team of Dave Stout and Phil Landauer took command in the doubles competition.

Titan talk . . .

by Vickie Morgan

Much to my disappointment, I was unable to observe the finals of the ORU Fall Tennis Championship, but learned that it was an exciting match indeed. ORU's Erik Ulleberg defeated Dave Power of Canada, who was seeded first for this tournament. Congratulations, Erik, for what I hear was an outstanding display of skill!

The Titan netters will be participating in the Tulsa Fall Closed Tournament October 18-23. We expect the team to do as well as and even better than they did in our own tournament.

If any of you, who have Foundations, seem to notice something missing in class these days, don't become too alarmed. Sam McCamey, former adjunct faculty member, is now a member of the Athletes in Action basketball team, headquartered in Phoenix, Ariz.

Athletes in Action, a ministry of Campus Crusade for Christ, will be playing against Tulsa University on November 20 and will come up against our own Titans on March 5. McCamey was a starting forward for the Titans last season.

There is a rumor floating around that the Mighty Titans of last season may be even mightier in the '72-'73 basketball season. The president's wish of a national championship by 1975 could even be fulfilled two years early! This is one rumor that I hope turns out to be fact! Only time will tell.

At present, the Oracle is in dire need of writers, particularly sports writers. If any of you are interested, leave your name, telephone number, dorm, and room number for me, Vickie Morgan, at the WHR desk or come by the Oracle office, room 19, in the SUB.

Football, swimming . . .

Intramurals gain new look

The intramural program at ORU is growing more sophisticated each year. The program has expanded to include women in all sports except wrestling. Their program will run concurrently with the men's program.

Minor sports have been dropped from the program of 10 sports. Three of these are major with the rest classified as intermediate. Three major tournaments in chess, pool (eight ball), and golf are also planned.

Men's football is in full swing with competition into its fourth week. Games are played daily Monday through Thursday starting at 4:15 p.m. on fields 3, 4, and 5. The fields are located near the men's parking lot. The women play on Saturday and Sunday.

KORU begins new format

by Art Walker

The signs say, "The New KORU is just for you," but most ORU students are saying "What in the world is KORU?" Until two years ago, KORU was a 100,000-watt FM radio station that had its studios in the Prayer Tower.

Now the Communication Arts Department is attempting to resurrect KORU and develop it into an effective campus radio station. Dr. Paul McClenden is the faculty advisor to this section of the Mass Communications Workshop, with Mickey Mitchell working as lab assistant. In addition, 10 students are working with KORU. The audio control center for KORU is located on the first floor of the LRC.

Many students have asked, "Where do I find KORU on my radio?" The answer to that question is a simple one. You can't. Plans are already being made for an expansion for KORU, but right now it is a campus radio station which will be available to the students only in the cafeteria and in the carrels in the LRC.

"The Lunch Bunch" is the first big step to establishing KORU as a source of information and entertainment on campus. It can be heard daily in the cafeteria at these hours:

Monday	11:30-1:30
Tuesday	11:30-1:30
Wednesday	12:00-1:30
Thursday	12:00-1:30
Friday	12:00-1:30
Saturday	12:00-1:30

Beginning next week, "The Lunch Bunch" will expand its entertainment to the evening meals when it will be heard from 4:30 until 6:30 p.m. on weekdays.

Since the beginning of "Lunch Bunch" a few weeks ago, many have complained that the music is too loud. Others have stated that it is not loud enough. Now students will have a choice in the volume. The volume will decrease from the north to the south pies of the cafeteria.

KORU will be taking a big step beginning next Friday. From 2 until 6 p.m., and continuing throughout the weekend, KORU will be available through the LRC carrels. Music will play the biggest role in the weekend listening. Selections include Jesus rock, easy listening, current top 40 hits, and gospel-sacred-religious music.

Although music will be a big part of the weekend listening, four or five 10-minute, ORU-related programs will be interjected within every four hours of music. Announcements concerning any school club or function may be announced without charge on KORU by contacting Mickey Mitchell.

The purpose of KORU is twofold. Mass Communication students are gaining valuable experience in working with live radio. The result is entertainment for ORU students. The Student Senate has already allocated $720 to KORU for the purchase of top 40 records. KORU is seeking to be an informative, educational, and entertaining tool for ORU.
